Erratic 'Ramil' weakens, heads for Taiwan

By Nikko Diaz and Alvin Papa

THE BEHAVIOR OF TYPHOON "RAMIL" has been confusing meteorologists and keeping the residents of northern Luzon on edge.

"It's abnormal, very erratic," National Crisis, deputy administrator of the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical and Astronomical Services Administration (PAGASA), said yesterday morning of the typhoon that had slowed down and accelerated at least three times, and its behavior was being influenced by "the weather system around it," which he described as "very erratic, too."

After earlier predicting that Ramil would make landfall yesterday in Agaña, Cagayan, weather forecasters said it had weakened into a storm and was only slowly drifting south-

MVP no reconstruction czar after all

By Daxin L. Luce

IT SEEMS HE WON'T BE ANY kind of reconstruction czar, at least all that he may have a say as how to set up a pie that could cost upwards of P30 billion. Less than two weeks after Malacanan announced the designation of business leader Manuel V. Pangloss as chair of a body that would implement the rehabilitation of areas damaged by two recent storms, officials yesterday released details of a new executive order amending a previous directive putting Pangloss at its helm.

As provided for under Executive Order 808, signed on Oct. 23, the new setup calls for the government to lead the implementation of the reconstruction effort in cooperation with the private sector.

Under the new order, the private sector will lead in management expertise to the massive effort while providing a system that will help ensure the trans-

YKK at 31 - World-Class Zippers na Gawang Pinoy

What do billions of people depend on most of their waking hours without even being conscious about it? What has finally held their clothes and every luggage... at home or in public, in casual and formal occasions, indoor and outdoor events and in just about any situation?

Zippers of course. Giant zip, visible zippers, Nylon zippers, metal zippers, nylon zippers, short or long, wide or narrow, plain white or dyed, heavy duty or designer zipper, global.

"With you please to the up," just the zipper is a Hollywood theme.

"Zipper no broken," a zipper girl makes the tea in a local TV commercial.

Is it any wonder whether our zipper dress was held together by YKK zipper? (We never found out if that YKK after all, but chances are the top's was probably not a YKK).

What? Because YKK zipper? (Good question, huh?) Indeed, since its founding in 1959 YKK Philippines, Inc. has produced nothing but quality zippers for high-end export brands as well as for the more demanding local designer products.

A tribute to the Filipino professionals and exceptional work ethic.

YKK also produces metal buttons, snaps, magnets and hook-and-loop for garments, shoes and bags. Tailors for bags and luggage fashion apparel, medical equipment, car seats and interior decoration, tents, and also provide parts such as coat hangers, sliders, straps, petting, grip, rollers and sewing tools.

YKK also provides the market with world-class zippers that satisfy the requirements of durability and quality in the key elements of YKK Philippines, Inc.

The company believes that each and every consumer has the right to get value for money in all purchases that use zippers. Hence, consumers who buy products that use YKK will be getting outstanding benefits brought on by some zipper that open and close from within without need to be dismantled or under zipper replacement.

On 31st year, serving consumers here and abroad, YKK Philippines, Inc. is proud to say "YKK World-Class Zippers, Gawang Pinoy".

Global Quality Brands use YKK Zippers

Global brands use their success in many domains, primary of which is the quality of their product. And when it comes to quality, the initial measure would be the components of the product, meaning, the material selected for use, and the rest of the elements that go into the product's completion.

Local brands with an eye on regional expansion or a larger share of the local market have taken a cue from global brands and observe strict quality choices. Designer contacts in tight strategic alliance.

Little wonder then the back load or fringe brands, YKK zipper are the products of choice. To maintain some of the popular segments:

YKK- Fastening Products Group

YKK's fastening products are manufactured to rigorous quality control standards when a truly integrated production system. These products have earned a reputation as a global market leader. At YKK, we take customer feedback as a top priority and we know that they are critical components within our customers' products. YKK controls every step of the manufacturing process to ensure quality, prompt delivery and the highest possible quality at the lowest possible price. We work hard to provide a superior service and products along with our effort and innovation.

Our zippers come with special features such as anti-magnets, nickel free and lead-free. But, complex with international standards.

Metal Fastener

The classic metal zipper is made from a variety of various alloys. Available in a wide range of finishes, the aluminum alloy zipper is most common. These are commonly used for jeans and trousers.

Plastic Fastener

Coated coil zippers are made of continuous interlocking of polymer or nylon attached to teeth. They are available in a wide range of weights from 10 to 200g. They are lightweight in spite of their duty. Their versatility makes coil zipper the most popular among other fasteners. These are used for coats, skirts, jackets, dresses and luggage.

Vision Fastener

Vision zipper is made from plastic teeth which is specially molded into teeth. A large range of colors and weight are available in this zipper product. A large of extruded vision zipper is also available. These products can be used for:

YKK also manufactures metal buttons, snaps, magnets, and hooks and eye to complete the visible garments.

Mr. Quickie + YKK Zippers = Happy Customers

Mr. QUICKIE, the Store and Bags Specialist, was introduced by an entrepreneur named Edmundo B. B. in 1981. Since then, in the company's core service. This has been since Mr. QUICKIE opened its first branch in 1985. In the succeeding years it added complementary services like bagging and bag repair to main customer's expanding needs.

For quality store and bag repair, drying and cleaning, only one name immediately comes to mind: Mr. QUICKIE. The company, indeed, has become synonymous with combining the craftsmanship of good old tailors and the precision and speed of modern store repair equipment and machinery.

At some point, Mr. QUICKIE wondered what good might this service be if they didn't have high-quality zippers? For a start, they realized that their high-quality service should be paired with high-quality products needed in their repairs. To achieve this, they partnered with reliable quality-conscious manufacturers around the world.

Contract signed between Mr. QUICKIE and YKK Philippines, Inc. in 1992. Mr. QUICKIE's service is now YKK Philippines, Inc. is proud to say "YKK World-Class Zippers, Gawang Pinoy".

Today, their partners are known close to the store and also in the industry. In the Store of Spain, Vietnam, Italy, Indonesia, Germany, and Togo of France.

And now, in its continuing pursuit of service quality and excellence, Mr. QUICKIE has joined a contract with YKK Philippines, Inc. where YKK will provide its intensive customer care with their zipper and fastening products... a remarkable measure of two quality-oriented companies working for the benefit of customers.

Delos Angeles, 12 other Legacy execs charged

By Norman Bernardino

THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE has filed probable cause to charge business leader Cely Delos Angeles and 12 others with questioned assets in connection with the Legacy group's failed transactions that drained investors of over P100 million in cash.

Acting Justice Secretary Aguirre Delos Angeles said the case involving the Legacy group's failed transactions that drained investors of over P100 million in cash.

The DOJ panel of prosecutors found out that the respondents deceived their depositors and the general public through its "illegal" repeated investment bank products that generated massive huge profits, the prosecutors said.

These include the double-pay-out-in-house press program, the conversion to three-year position buy-back program, the five-year position program and the six-year "buy-back" program.

The DOJ said it is not a good idea to invest in the Legacy group's failed transactions that drained investors of over P100 million in cash.

Abaya named new Palace peace adviser

By TJ Burge

Abaya

It's not just possible before the Abaya's visit ends on June 25, 2009, she will also become the world's first woman to be named a "peace adviser" for the rest of her life.

"To the very least, one of the things we need to do is prepare a timeline, plan, prepare a plan, and again that the new president might be able to lead us to peace," she said.

Abaya, who holds master's degree in dispute resolution from the University of Massachusetts and a doctorate in conflict resolution from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, said she would advise the peace agreement with the Islamic Revolutionary Front (IRF).

"So we are going to have another agreement like the MAMAG (Memorandum of Agreement on Amicable Dispute)? I don't know what the shape of that agreement will be like, but it will be a peace agreement," she said.

Abaya would lead an agreement together with the IRF, she said when asked about the deal to expand the Bangsamoro territory on the island of Mindanao.

"We will be going to have another agreement like the MAMAG (Memorandum of Agreement on Amicable Dispute)? I don't know what the shape of that agreement will be like, but it will be a peace agreement," she said.

GMA, PCCI cite Libanon's reforms

President Macapagal-Arroyo has cited Immigration Commissioner Romeo Libanon for helping boost the country's gross domestic product (GDP) this year, despite the worldwide recession, through the recruitment of professional cadres and volume that increased income arrivals, increased business development and created employment opportunities.

Libanon received an award from the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PCCI) for his "commitment to excellence and good governance, reform and promotion of inward trade, investment and tourism" during the 23rd Philippine Conference and Expo held last Wednesday at the Manila Hotel.

In her speech, Ms. Arroyo said the reforms initiated made by Libanon as the head of Immigration (IR) was the "best example" of the government and private industry working together to open the country's economic development.

"Your strength comes from our openness, liberality, has enhanced our competitive edge," Ms. Arroyo stated.

"The Chief Executive also said the reforms in the IR have created the best example of the government and private industry working together to open the country's economic development."

"Your strength comes from our openness, liberality, has enhanced our competitive edge," Ms. Arroyo stated.

"The Chief Executive also said the reforms in the IR have created the best example of the government and private industry working together to open the country's economic development."

Ms. Arroyo added that with the recent boom caused by the euro regional crisis that hit the country recently is a daily for foreign companies and companies employing foreign expatriates to visit themselves on the IRF, and provide employment opportunities to help Filipino workers in obtaining jobs.

Major R. Nolasco, PCCI chief, said the rise upon arrival program, together with the other reforms initiated by Libanon in the bureau has been instrumental in helping foreign businessmen gain confidence in the Philippines as investment sites.

"Commendable Libanon has successfully helped the country to be the preferred investment destination for foreign business men through his innovative approach such as the job visa," Nolasco said.

He added the reform initiated by Libanon in the IR has increased the arrival of tourists in the country, created employment opportunities for Filipinos and formed a long-lasting business cooperation between the government and the private sector.

The 2009 program, which is a joint initiative of the PCCI and the IR, allows the sign businesses with investments in companies that employ at least 10 regular and full-time Filipino workers in industry may be to the country.

Defections of more GMA allies seen

By Michael Lee Uric

THE NAKAGAWARA PARTY SEEN as a vehicle of administration allies and they are all headed for the SP camp.

Sen. Manuel Villar Jr., the SP ministerial leader, Oct. 20/9, announced yesterday that the party would have a complete national and local forum.

Interested in local politics, Villar said he will lead a "new" movement, but will not lead the latter's identity as to not to prejudice the Nakagawara movement.

Politicians are still that the Villar camp is creating Sen. Loren Legarda of the Nacionalista Party's Coalition to be his running mate.

"We have a few (very) potential, but not confirmed... but we will announce it as the final thing," said Villar, adding that the party was busy completing its organizational data.

"I guess the date would be revealed in two weeks. We will make a formal announcement in the first or second week of November," he said.

The senator added that the NP had been successful in convincing administration allies to defect to his camp.

So far, five provincial governors and more than a thousand members and officials around the country have shown allegiance to the NP.

"On Thursday, a leader from the net of GMA-7 came out before the NP" and Villar, referring to a supporter in Tarlac City of Defense Secretary Gilbert "Gibo" Troncoso Jr., the prospective presidential candidate of the ruling Lakas-Kampi-CMD.

"Last month alone, almost 300 support took their oath. This is an addition to the 100 who took their oath last month," he said.

According to SP spokesperson and House Committee Rep. Gilbert Benavides, the recent recruits and the entry of many more in the door to come showed the resilience of Villar as a presidential candidate.

"The Nacionalista Party biggest name is going to be in full swing by month now and the May elections already, are an exciting prospect of big positions placing their respective names, Manny Villar as president," he said.

The Bureau of Government Subject "Ben" Barrios of Benguet del Norte, brought Capas of Davao del Sur, Abigayle Banaag of Bataan and Lito Banaag of Bukidnon and Lito Banaag of Bukidnon, will be in the same line for "just the coming elections to proper perspective. 2010 will be about obvious programs for the poor and are sharing photo-opportunity in the future," Benavides said.

Erap's name to remain in list of candidates

By Kristine L. Alvar

EXCEPT THE NAHAGAWARA PARTY, the list of candidates for the 2010 local elections will be unchanged.

Senator Manuel Villar Jr. said yesterday the party body would not announce Villar's name from the list of candidates should the Supreme Court fail to rule on the legality of the list.

By the time, according to the Commission's chairman, all names on the list of candidates for the 2010 local elections will be ready for printing.

If a complaint concerning Villar's name was filed before the Commission and the poll body upheld it, a would-be mayor that Villar's name was on the list, he said.

"Villar's name could still run for the Supreme Court for final ruling," he said.

"The decision is not final," he said.

Environmental woes blamed on RP's huge population

By Michelle V. Bernal

AN ECONOMY FROM THE UNIVERSITY of the Philippines has blamed the country's environmental problems on its huge population.

Environmental Protection Fund, the Philippine Development Bank, said the environmental problems that currently face the country are a result of the country's population growth.

"Notably, the environmental problems that currently face the country are a result of the country's population growth," said the report.

The report said the country's population growth is a major factor in the environmental problems that currently face the country.

How would you like to affect your students more positively?

Teacher who get out to move alongside their students and encourage them to develop... Take responsibility for their actions, own their own goals etc., are likely to be more successful than those who get out to "save" or "fix" their students with a more prescriptive approach. But most teachers these days are all a little on the "save" side, "prescriptive" in their approach and make a impact in their students lives.

Here is a seminar that will focus on so much more than just teaching. It will focus on VCL and as a result every student who walks through your classroom door for the rest of your career will be affected by your enthusiasm for life, your commitment for making a difference, and your courage to take a chance on the great potentials that reside within each of us.

Leptospirosis cases hit 2,046

THE NUMBER OF LEPTOSPIROSIS CASES caused by floods exposed by tropical rains, "Daisy" in Metro Manila and Southern Luzon in the past few weeks to more than double the number of cases recorded by the health department for the whole of 2008.

Statistics gathered by the Department of Health showed that there are now 2,046 cases of leptospirosis after Daisy's heavy rains on Sept. 26 caused floods flooding in the National Capital Region and in nearby provinces such as Iloilo and Negros Occidental.

There are now 127 deaths, according to the DOH National Epidemiology Center.

The DOH has taken steps to prevent the further spread of the disease caused by swimming in overflowing contaminated water bodies in the past few weeks.

Stop Boracay destruction 'whoever gets hurt,' DENR chief told

By Wesley B. Burgos Jr.
Reporter/Writer

MANILA—THE DENR Secretary Romeo Prudente has told business groups that the DENR will not allow any destruction of Boracay Island's environment and natural resources (ENR) to stop unbridled illegal construction and other destructive activities on the island coast and enforce laws "regardless of who gets hurt."

In a letter to Environment

Secretary Romeo Prudente dated Oct. 21, DENR Regional Director Romeo Prudente expressed concern over the construction of houses and other structures on top of coral reef and to re-build houses on the island.

Business groups in the island officials called on DENR to stop the illegal construction and enforcement laws to enforce the DENR's policy on the construction of houses and other structures on the island.

Prudente disclosed that in a meeting that in the island with a group of business groups, they were "shocked" to see concrete houses built on top of coral reef and on the beach of the island, the location of the last beach spots and most expensive houses.

Prudente warned that illegal activities would ultimately destroy the island's tourism industry that generates P72 billion annually.

He urged DENR to address the growing pressure of business groups and other stakeholders by enforcing national laws "regardless of who gets hurt."

Prudente said it is the main responsibility of the DENR to enforce laws and ensure sustainable management. These include the Environmental Impact Statement system, shoreline laws, laws on shoreline, marine protected areas, coral reefs and small island development.

2 Benguet areas tagged uninhabitable

By Deliver Cortes

LA TRINIDAD, BENGUET—Fearing the loss of more lives, the Mines and Geosciences Bureau (MGB) in the Cordillera has declared two areas no longer habitable and asked people to immediately leave them.

In a report submitted to Gov. Jesse Magsaysay on Friday, the MGB said Little Kibangay in Benguet and the section of 300 Benguet in the province of Benguet, which were hit by landslides on Oct. 8, are no longer fit for habitation.

"The areas must be vacated because of their unstable condition," the report said.

The MGB also recommended the immediate relocation of the Lamayan Elementary School, as it is in danger, because it is at the edge of a steep slope.

The school is in danger of collapse to high during heavy rainfall, it said.

Deaths

At least 15 people died in a massive landslide, triggered by heavy rains dumped by Typhoon "Raging," forced the mountainous community of Little Kibangay on Oct. 8, according to 20 residents who the MGB said.

The MGB report claimed the findings of Sept. 14, MGB chief George A. Gaudin, and the MGB's National High School Division Office (NHSDO) in Benguet.

Landslide after landslide

The flow was arrested with some leading to the landslide that caused 400 deaths, it said.

A minimum of 1,000 people were displaced from their homes and some were injured.

GMA leaves today for Asean summit in Bangkok

PROSECUTOR MAGALANAN also accompanied to teams at 11:30 a.m. today (October 23) for Thailand to attend the 35th session of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean).

Mr. Arroyo stopped the interim closing ceremony program and sent her departure from Friday night to this morning on she could attend to pressing national duties, officials said.

On arrival in Thailand, Mr. Arroyo will join the heads of state of the 10-nation Asean at a working lunch with the leaders of China, Japan and South Korea, and later in the evening, the three leaders at the "Thematic of This Day, This Nation" symposium.

Gregg Remonde was in the line-up, she will also hold a bilateral meeting with Japan, take part in the Asean trade summit and attend a press dinner held by Thailand.

Tomorrow, she will have a bilateral meeting with New Zealand, have lunch with the Filipino community and join other leaders in the final Asean summit, according to Remonde.

"She will be picked, he will be back in Manila on Friday night, God willing," Remonde said.

A friend's birthday

Marking for the 6th day, Mr. Arroyo visited her home proctor of Singapore to inspect infrastructure projects.

What was different in her Singapore visit this time was the special part of her schedule visiting a friend. She was guest at a birthday celebration in her city for Manila Bulletin's 70th anniversary.

"She 70 years old and I am glad that she's here as I celebrate her birthday," Arroyo said.

Arroyo said he met Mr. Arroyo through his father, a photographer and a close friend of the President's late father, who was President Diosdado Macapagal.

QC POLICE EYE NPA BREAKAWAY GROUP IN ATTACK ON HOUSE

Neri strafing suspect named

By Julia MC. Aurelio

A MEMBER OF A BREAKAWAY group of the New People's Army was charged in the Quezon City Prosecutor's Office yesterday for his alleged involvement in the strafing of the house owned by Social Security System president Romulo Neri on Oct. 9.

The suspect was identified as Isidro Joseph Naras, reportedly a member of the Hukbong Bayan Laban based in Marikina, Pangasinan province.

Naras, who is still at large, was charged Thursday afternoon with attempted murder, robbery, serious illegal detention and extortion.

He was identified after police recovered a mobile charged five weeks back inside a warehouse in Marikina Marikina, Quezon City where a drone of the van was recovered from the suspect and his companions arrested last July.

Chief Insp. Benjamin Rios Jr. of the Quezon City Police District's Criminal Investigation and Control Unit said the receipt was issued to Naras's girlfriend, Tanya Dajep, of Dasmariñas, Cavite province.

Dajep told investigators that she had purchased some items for Naras from a Cebu City store on Oct. 7, as reflected in the receipt.

QCPC director Blane Dela Cruz said Naras's group, which is reportedly involved in marijuana and gun for hire activities, is allegedly led by Leticia Salas, who has a strutting awareness of arrest issued by the Pangasinan Regional Trial Court.

Active still unknown

Naras said there were possibilities that the group was hard to carry on the strafing, "but as to the motive and to who did the hitting, we don't know that yet."

But, named Naras and other John Jones for his compliance officers after Quezon City police identified Naras as one of the suspects in the incident.

Several armed men wearing camouflage uniforms shot at Neri's house in Puhil Street, Marikina City in Quezon City, in broad daylight while they were taking a shower.

Reynold Samillan, Neri's driver and bodyguard, confirmed it was Naras who shot his car 40 pistol and ordered him to duck during the strafing, after he was shown a photograph of the suspect obtained by police from the Land Transportation Office.

Samillan and security guard Renato Talavera charged Naras and his brother with robbery after the circumstances also made it with Neri's car and Neri's cell phone.

Romulo Naras, the owner of the machine, said the allegedly committed assault by the suspects, also filed a complaint for serious illegal detention and carrying against Naras and his will unrestricted cooperation.

Naras refused a day off in the strafing and claimed two men befriended him in Pangasinan and wanted a ride in his car that was later seized by the suspects.

Naras said, they are still following up leads leading to the identity of the 10 to 15 other men who carried out the attack.

US files Polanski extradition request over 1977 sex case

GENEVA—THE UNITED STATES has asked Switzerland to hand over Roman Polanski to authorities in California, where he is wanted for having sex with a 13-year-old girl, Swiss media said on Friday.

The Justice Ministry said in a statement that Washington filed its formal extradition request late Thursday. The 70-year-old filmmaker has been in Swiss custody since his arrest on Sept. 30, he is expected to remain in a Swiss hotel. The request has been forwarded to Swiss authorities, which will hold a hearing on an unclassified case to decide whether extradition should be sent back to Los Angeles. If extradition is approved, Polanski may appeal the decision in Switzerland's supreme court and, eventually, to the Federal Supreme Court. The US had said since November he was for trial in California, but the Swiss have already said on Oct. 3 that the American request is not a criminal case, according to documents obtained by The Associated Press.

In an actual extradition request by the US under US law, it is a criminal case, Los Angeles prosecutors said, but the Swiss were very eager to receive an advance English copy of the papers and "the answer that the Swiss have not had formal papers for the arrest."

There was no mention of non-prosecution of the arrest; Polanski was wanted for sexual abuse of a minor. The request has been forwarded to Swiss authorities, which will hold a hearing on an unclassified case to decide whether extradition should be sent back to Los Angeles. Polanski pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of sexual abuse of a minor. In exchange, the judge agreed to drop the remaining charges and sentence him to prison for a 90-day psychiatric evaluation. Polanski was released after a 10-day psychiatric evaluation but the judge said he was going to send him back to serve the remainder of the 90 days. Polanski then fled the country on Feb. 3, 1978. He was not to be heard again.

A French nurse who moved to Polanski's club, the director of such film children as "Roman Holiday" and "Chinatown" has lived in France since leaving the United States. France does not extradite its citizens.

Polanski has been fighting since his arrest to be released from jail. He confirmed a website earlier this week when the French-Galician Court rejected his appeal because of the high risk he would flee justice again.

Thai king appears in public after a month in hospital

BANGKOK—THAILAND'S REVERED KING MADE HIS FIRST public appearance since being hospitalized a month ago, easing fears over the health of the monarch who has helped stabilize his nation's economy for decades.

The 81-year-old Bhumibol Adulyadej, the world's longest-reigning royal, was pictured on television being pushed in a customized wheelchair by a team of royal physicians in his hospital in Bangkok.

Reported as a devoted by many Thais, the king was admitted to hospital on Sept. 17 with a long infection and liver complications that his health had deteriorated and the nation's stock market tumbling last week.

Channel 9 reported that King Bhumibol paid homage to his grandfather, King Chulalongkorn, whose death is marked on Friday by a public holiday. Praying, devout his wearing a blue short-sleeved shirt and blue trousers.

The royal also paid homage to his late parents and visited a photographic exhibition at the hospital in honor of his late mother.

The television report said the king does visit a bookstore before returning to the wing where he has been receiving treatment.

A crowd of dozens of people quietly gathered at the hospital, chanting "Long live the king" as he was wheeled about the grounds.

"I was born five years after I heard the king had come down and I don't forgive the king," one woman said. "I went into the with the Thai people for a long, long time."

The king's health is a sensitive topic in light of the rumor that has misled Thailand for three years since former prime minister Thaksin Shinawatra was toppled in a 2006 coup.

On Thursday, the royal household issued a statement saying it would no longer issue daily updates on the king's health.

The general condition of the king is stable, he has gained strength and can now sleep in comfort, but the team of royal physicians continue to administer antibiotics," the statement said.

"The royal household will make an announcement if there is any change in his condition," it said.

The only direct comment from the royal family came last Friday from the king's daughter, Princess Chulabhorn, who said doctors had assured the family that he was not at danger.

Financial analyst Chirana Pongpatirak said the appearance would help shore up confidence in the stock market after the bourse plunged 8.55 percent in one point last Thursday, despite attempts by its investors to restrain losses.

Pfizer Unilab with patent suit

By Reynold H. Deering

WISHING TO PROTECT ITS INVESTMENT in its patent and trademark drug Lipitor, pharmaceutical giant Pfizer Inc. has filed a patent infringement lawsuit against local competitor United Laboratories Inc.

Philippine public affairs director Paul J. Perrelli said the case, now pending with the Manila Regional Trial Court, sought to deter "a level playing field and fair competition," as Unilab was already selling a generic version of Lipitor even if the Philip-yne patent for the drug remained in force.

"I just want to reiterate that Unilab's patent infringement is true in the Philippines and exists only in 2009. It is only one level playing field and fair competition in the market, and the double-dip issue."

Thrift banks fear rise of soured loans

THE COUNTRY'S THRIFT BANKING SEC- tor reported record losses in 2008, saying that borrowers from devastated areas by last month reported they have difficulty paying off their debts.

Still, the Chamber of Thrift Banks (CTB) said the rise in nonperforming loans (NPL) would remain minimal.

According to CTB president Francisco Garcia, the average nonperforming loans as a ratio of total loans stood at around 7 percent prior to the crisis of Tropical Storm "Dengie" and Typhoon "Nepeng," he said. The figure would increase, but would not likely hit the double-digit level.

In fact, Garcia said, banks were experiencing only a slight increase in their NPLs.

"We are seeing a slight increase in the NPL rates, but are down to one in every 10 percent. We are not experiencing the worst case scenario," Garcia added, reporting that, following the annual meeting of the CTB held yesterday at Mandala Oriental Hotel in Iloilo City.

Still, he said, in the perspective of sound loans to the total bank portfolio of banks, loans are considered to be more robust than people expect in 30 days post-disaster.

"Many banks have been affected by the calamities even if it is minor from the devastation, and their recovery were not substantially delayed," Garcia added.

Garcia said the calamities affected bank lending both positively and negatively. The said credit said loans for purchases of supplies and recovery work. This could restore the process to normal lending, he said.

On the other hand, spending for things like living and entertainment is expected to hit its families affected by the calamities, and their recovery were not substantially delayed," Garcia added.

"So, the positive and negative impact of the calamities as well as lending is concerned would simply be offsetting themselves," Garcia said.

Meanwhile, Philippine banks last year filed for a double-digit growth rate, said Garcia, who is also president of PNBank, and the growth in lending would be boosted by the increase in demand for consumer loans rather than corporate loans.

Manila Bulletin

Foreign company stresses it still holds rights to contested drug we would like this case for the law and its provisions in regard to (patent) property rights protection in the country," they said.

Unilab started selling Anisatin, the generic version of Lipitor, this month. Perrelli said Pfizer would not be surprised why Unilab would do that since the local pharmaceutical firm knew that the patent for Anisatin, the compound being marketed under the Lipitor brand, was still valid.

Unilab had actually filed a patent infringement case with the Intellectual Property Office of the Philippines for Pfizer's trademark, the original patent for which was held by Pfizer

Inc., a company that Pfizer bought in 2006.

"We're trying to understand the basis for the invalidation of the patent. The issue is that (Unilab) had a case saying that they registered their name as a trading partner," she said.

But as it was confirmed, we're still under patent to sell our drug, they already selling a generic version of Lipitor." Right now, the said Pfizer has submitted "to the court most data and evidence."

In a separate interview, Unilab corporate vice president Jose "Agay" Aron said that Anisatin was Pfizer's patent on Lipitor was "still subject to challenge."

Prime Media stock soars on MVP's TV-5 deal

By Dave C. Duran

THE SHARE PRICE OF PRIME MEDIA Holdings Inc. soared on news that the latest deal would be used by the group of Manuel V. Pangalanan at the backdrop being vehicle for ABC Development Corp., the media and sports group of ABC, China and TVN.

Prime Media's stock price increased by 333 percent in just two days, as since the deal between Prime Media and ABC Development Corp., a subsidiary of the telecommunications giant's investment fund, BPI Beneficial Trust Fund, announced a deal to acquire a 75 percent stake in TVN.

Yesterday, Prime Media closed at P13.79 per share, up by P1.15 from close Thursday's close.

Prime Media has a market capitalization of about P26.38 billion.

based on yesterday's closing. Dealers said Prime Media, which is 52 percent owned by the Pangalanan-led Merito Pacific group, may see its share price rise to P15.00.

Prime Media was originally incorporated as Prime Development Corp. of the Philippines. It became ABC Development Bank Inc. when the Merito Pacific group had banking interest in the Philippines. Later, it was known as First Bank Group, which was sold to Citicorp Henry's Bank of the Philippines in 2002.

The company acquired its current name in 2003, when it was merged into a holding company for media investments after the banking business was sold to Banco de Oro.

The group has been creating top Prime Media's balance sheet over the last few years "to pave the way

"They don't have a very strong case," he said, referring to Pfizer's patent infringement filing. "Patents are very subject to challenge, and there's no court order, no temporary restraining order that will prevent us or anybody from selling Pfizer's claim has no legal basis at all."

But Perrelli said Pfizer merely wanted to ensure that its confidential property, locked by years of research and development and millions in its retained data, remained protected.

"We're not that we don't welcome generics, but we've up to $1 billion and spent up to 15 years just to develop the new drug. When you see that much, you also want to make sure you're protected," she said.

for the entry of a new investor who will be willing to invest in business or start-up company."

When the Philippine Long Distance Telephone Co. group announced that it would launch the national broadband network, data reported Merito Pacific to sell the said company to the PLD group.

Regulator's group agreed to buy ABC's share in connection with its Acacia Telecom and holding group (ATG) under its own major media and content partner for PLD and its flagship wireless phone provider Smart Communications Inc.

Telecom's consent to sell to the said holding company in the "convergence" strategy of the PLD group. PLD's group is also the major media and content partner for PLD and its flagship wireless phone provider Smart Communications Inc.

Loans taken out to boost recovery may have gov't seal

By Reynold H. Deering

THE GOVERNMENT INTEREST TO STIMULATE loans that will be taken out in fiscal administration and reconstruction programs. Finance Secretary Marjorie E. Torres said yesterday.

"In the same time, the government, with the help of the private sector, may tap other sources to raise the needed funds to help the country recover from the damage of Tropical Storm "Dengie" and "Nepeng," Torres added.

"We can (raise) loans for relief assistance and reconstruction loans for early recovery and rehabilitation," she finance chief said.

"There is high probability that government will be given assistance from the World Bank, International Development and Cooperation Agency (IDC), and other international organizations."

Torres declined to say how much funds would be needed for reconstruction. All he said was that Unilab Bank's pre-disaster needs assessment (PDNA) would be done in November.

"There is no definite figure on that, but the latest estimate in the damage is P30 billion," he said.

Some P11 billion was reported last to Unilab and P15 billion to PNBank. Reported loans were estimated at P20 billion, while infrastructure damage was said to be P10 billion.

Also, Torres said the newly formed Public Private Reconstruction Commission, of which he is a member, may be held in a formal discussion with international organizations.

Torres said, relief efforts would continue in the next three months, while early recovery would be another three months.

Distributors may get ERC nod to undertake open access

By Amy B. Ramos

THE ENERGY REGULATION COMMISSION may allow distribution utilities to implement the Open Access to Cycles Program (OACP) as one of the two preconditions for new power plants.

In a decision, ERC said the OACP would be implemented 90 days after the completion of either the following conditions: The transfer of operation of the government-owned Calaca power facility to a private generation company, or the privatization of at least 10 percent of the generating assets of National Power Corp. in Luzon and Visayas.

submitted the highest bid for the 666 megawatt Calaca coal-fired thermal power plant in Batangas, according to an offer of $16.7 million.

The facility, however, has yet to be started over by the government to its new owners.

"The sale of the Calaca power facility would mean the availability of a substantial amount of uncommitted capacity," ERC said.

Peso seen to be better off weak for OFWs' sake

By Michelle V. Ramos

THE PHILIPPINE ECONOMY AS A result of the increase in price of commodities, the impact of a weakening local currency on inflation can be minimized, Abella said. Because of this, the BSP can allow the peso to depreciate further and still keep inflation within official targets.

The government's average inflation target for 2010 is 3.5 percent. In 2009, inflation was 3.5 percent.

Latest government data showed that average inflation for the last three months of the year stood at 3.4 percent.

Depreciation of the peso only has a small impact on inflation. Even more, it is not a problem for the BSP, which said the peso is not a problem for the BSP.

He said the economy needed a weaker peso to increase the purchasing power of billions of Filipinos who are fully dependent on remittances.

Depreciated remittances accounts for about 70 percent of the country's external AEC trade.

The peso remained at the 47.40 level.

Other sectors that have been hit by the 47.40 level the previous month. Market leaders said the BSP would intervene in the market if the peso were to pass 47.40, according to him.

Many volatility of the currency makes it difficult for businesses, as recently those engaged in exports and imports, and even consumers dependent on foreign exchange transactions in their daily lives.

But Abella said that, as the economy, a weaker peso should be allowed. The peso should depreciate to a level that would not cause inflation targets.

Winning flick, killer soundtrack

In what other movie can the leads make cute over 'There is a Light That Never Goes Out' by the Smiths?

ZOOEY Deschanel as Summer and Joseph Gordon-Levitt as Tom.

By Ruel S. De Vesa

THERE IS A STORY OF BOY meets girl, but you should know upfront, this is not a love story. Instead, the overly whimsical narrative of "500 Days of Summer" is like those white and beige indie movies that are selling themselves.

Of course it's a love story, but a small-scale one especially infused with ambiguity, uncertainty and a killer soundtrack. It's sort of like real life with better-looking people and the plot unfolds slowly to please.

In what other movie can the leads make cute over "There is a Light That Never Goes Out" by the Smiths?

Tom Hansen (Joseph Gordon-Levitt) is a social researcher working at a greeting card company when he meets and is attracted by Summer Finn (Zooey Deschanel), an eccentric (read: odd) who doesn't take her seriously on principle.

The musical factor, however, does not let down the movie. And the soundtrack plays our small romps in love and wonder for the greater of all.

Chemistry

Deschanel and Gordon-Levitt display real chemistry as they court and suffer through the human love of God's creation. Ironically playing, you wouldn't imagine of them. Deschanel possesses a innocence-like screen presence, with her blushed expression and teenage-doll beauty, as she plays the lovely, sad and unbreakable summer girl. She will never change.

But it is Gordon-Levitt, his face lit up and drawn down to reflect the state of his present life, who wins the audience over. The movie's refusal to accept what he is—and the audience knows he is happening, the more he is. You stop like emotional children because he can't help but believe Summer is the one.

That's because she's like the most beautiful song you've never heard. She's pure and real, and she's the only one who can't be taken.

Not for nothing is Summer more likely to be known for her single movie status with For Your Consideration (2008), and Green Day ("21 Grams") as her screen music to the song he has adopted in the movie he is actually releasing.

The tie with the black and white French cinema was inspired. With its shifting look and feels from day 1 to day 300 of the aforementioned "500 Days" and every day in between, the movie achieves what

We Minimize Consumption

GO AHEAD, HOLD A costume party for Halloween. Add a kick to your typical get-together by adding a creative spin to the festivities.

Hold a Halloween-themed quiz night
Hold your own trivia night at home and prepare special categories. Do your friends know the meaning of "Zombichocolate"? Will they be able to identify what year the Court Jesters Society was founded? What's the difference between a ghost and a ghoul? Come up with questions on vampires, zombies and monsters and see how many your friends know. Don't forget to award prizes for winning.

Serve up some Halloween flood

Lower-themed food items such as candy apples, or brain freeze if it's plastic skulls, pumpkin soup, blood-red cranberry juice (pink if it will, vodka in present if it's too freezing for children), or other similar that lowers items. You might want to pick up doughnuts from Willy's Kreme or Get Nuts to serve as dessert.

Have a Halloween viewing party

Watch only the Halloween episodes of your favorite TV shows, such as "How I Met Your Mother," "Big Bang Theory," "The Office," "Duffy the Vampire Slayer," "Friends," etc. Being such every major TV show has had a Halloween episode, so get a bit of just favorite ones and show them to a loved one.

Hold a 'The Simpsons Treehouse of Horror' marathon

There's a lot of Halloween shows out there, but if you can't decide on one, you will never go wrong with the simplest classic: Treehouse of Horror episodes. Give a prize to the person who can do the best M. Night Shyamalan imitation.

Have a photo shoot party

If you're lucky enough to have a photography friend, have him/her set up some lights and a camera so you can all take some posing to your hearts' content. Come up with a background...it can be as simple as covering a wall with black or blue paper and putting a mirror and some hair, or as elaborate as designing a set right out of your favorite fairy movie. A lot of effort, but the photos will be worth it.

Hold a relief drive-in costume

First of all, make sure that the people you'll be meeting will appreciate whatever in your costume gives out rolled goods. Kids usually like costumes, and if you make your costume more silly than scary, you'll be able to give the kids victims a much-needed laugh. Bring treats, like candy, baked goods, etc. Yuh—instead of doing the collecting, you'll be doing the giving. If you're a charity-stricken soul, visit an orphanage or a children's hospital and watch their faces light up with the unexpected treats.

A Synergy of Art and Living

TWO TERRAZZAS Swimming Pool

A SYNERGY of the synergy between art and life was recently brought to Alorainia 2's residents with the most globally recognized artist and designer displaying their exceptional artworks.

"The artists display of each art and design piece is in fact believed to not only represent, it's a privilege to have such great artists render the beauty of artistic living with environmental sensitivity through visually stunning artworks, especially since these artworks that Alorainia 2 shares with them," says Nestor Josa, Vice President for Project Development of Alorainia 2, an Alorainia 2 Company.

Take Two Terrazas for example. As a result, the development's focus on providing residents with the best and greenest of nature is evident in the sprawling grounds and numerous private gardens found within the 12-hectare development. In the same vein, Two Terrazas's design, which was inspired by nature and its beauty, mirrors the vision of two terraces, where long terraces play on contrast, are embodied through its central green terrace. Two Terrazas's sustainable living is the city's vision.

Alorainia 2's landscape, which shows nature's diversity, more abundant and more sustainable "Garden" reflects the functional and visually striking elements need evident in Alorainia 2's. The high rise, located at the heart of the Makati business district, incorporates ecological architecture and design aesthetics while still maintaining the high functionality that Alorainia 2 residents need through architectural activities. On the other hand, Mike Sana's central theme which features a collective design to both serve as a homage to nature and artistic functionality is reflective of the vision found in Alorainia 2's. Alorainia 2's design development in the rising new metropolitan, Manila, creates following the details of sustainability. It also underscores the importance of the environment through the incorporation of ecologically sound elements within the development to complement the natural landscape that Alorainia 2's green and open spaces provide.

Amazed on Alorainia 2's exceptional attention to the environment, Alorainia 2's such as Ten Pacific and Liza Robinson only use spaces for showcasing their creativity through the use of recycled paper materials, showcasing the importance of ecological sensitivity one of the core values of Alorainia 2.

Locally color-based designer Kenneth Robinson's eye for beauty and comfort takes center stage. Apart from being patron of this particular artist's artwork, the study behind his art are reflected in its truly use of natural, local materials and infusion of modern elements and design.

And for the same reason that we will continue to look out for these artists' new vision to the form, Alorainia 2 is not to introduce innovations. But will however its concept of innovative living through unique aesthetics, ecological architecture and a vision of building homes designed to offer the life that you deserve.

More than anything, this is a focus of art and the beauty of living—and gives each artist's unique vision, we feel very honored to having been given an opportunity to be part of it. — Nest Josa Alorainia 2's, formerly Community Development, lets the landscape for innovation in Alorainia 2's and Alorainia 2's through innovative architecture and local sustainable. Alorainia 2's, in a way, is a way to provide the most innovative homes. It looks for ways to make you live the life you deserve.
